

ABSTRACT

A sterilizing drape which can be used to cover a C-arm machine in combination with a small surgical table. The invention assumes that a small surgical table has been affixed to the lower portion of a C-arm machine. The sterilizing drape covers the exposed portions of the C-arm machine as well as the small surgical table. An integrated version is disclosed which covers the C-arm machine, the small surgical table, and the patient. Other embodiments are disclosed which cover these areas using separate pieces.
